In the System screen, tap on System update.

If a system update is available, the device will list the version and give a brief summary of what the update is for along with the update's download size. Tap Download and install to continue with the update. It is always suggested to be connected to Wi-Fi when dowloading large files.

Depending on the size of the download, it could take a few minutes or over an hour to perform the update. The device will restart to finish the install process. Once complete, the device will return you to the lockscreen.
